A FAITH-FULL FOUNDATION

Here, students begin to blossom socially, academically, and physically. As they explore their world with newfound confidence, their enthusiasm is met with wisdom and experience. By the time they “graduate” from fifth grade, they will have begun to build a foundation of faith and friends that – along with newly developed reading and math skills – will take them to the next level of personal, intellectual, and spiritual growth.

- Parental involvement is key to success at all ages, but particularly so in the early elementary grades. Our school welcomes parents and grandparents, always.
- The ability to read well is so important to later learning that our school dedicates significant time to various types of literacy instruction.
- Teachers will coach your child to success appropriate for their age and ability level. The result? Kids who are confident and highly engaged.
